

Comsewogue Public Library Worker's Compensation Policy

All library employees are covered by Worker's Compensation. This means that, should an employee be injured while on the job or contact an occupational disease, benefits will be received depending upon eligibility, as determined by the insurance carrier. An employee must notify the Library Director as soon as possible in the event of a work-related accident. In no event should the employee delay said notification longer than twenty-four hours.