

John Rossini has been a resident of the Comsewogue Union Free School District for about 20 years. He and his wife have two daughters and three grandchildren. Mr. Rossini's wife and one of their daughters are graduates of Comsewogue High School, as are numerous extended family members.

Mr. Rossini is the Head of Recruiting for a major pharmaceutical company on Long Island. One of his proudest accomplishments was earning a BS in Human Resource Management from Colorado State University's Global Campus in 2018.

Mr. Rossini has been a Comsewogue Public Library Trustee for the past seven years. He writes that he continues "to find it to be an extraordinary experience" and goes on to state:

Assisting my peers and the library director in making decisions that can impact the community is one of the most fulfilling things I have done. A library is not just the brick and mortar building where we go to read books, educate ourselves and gather with the community, it is the heart of the community where our children, our parents and ourselves can find a safe place to learn about life.

I want to continue to be able to be a part of that decision-making organization, whether it has to do with working with the great employees, deciding on what event to participate in, seeing to the maintenance of the building and anything else that is brought to this decision-making body.

I bring to this role more than my love of the library and the community. I bring the ability to lead and make decisions. I bring an understanding of the community through the family members who have been part of it for their entire lives. I bring my experience in Human Resources, and specifically, recruiting, which assist in my ability to direct library activities, understand the employee base and assist at crafting the budget.

Lastly, I serve the community through my role as Trustee, and help make decisions I hope to be right for Comsewogue and the Comsewogue Family over the next five years.

Mr. Rossini's hobbies include travel, especially to Disneyworld and aboard a cruise ship, as well as reading and working in his backyard.
